

Frequently Asked Questions

How can I contact Richard Armitage?

Fan mail and autograph requests should be sent to this address, which his agent confirms is the ONLY address to contact Richard:

Richard Armitage
c/o United Agents
12-26 Lexington Street
London
W1F 0LE
United Kingdom

If you would like to request a signed photo, please enclose the following:

- A large stamped addressed envelope (C4 size = 229mm x 324mm = 9 inches x 12.8 inches).
- If you live in the UK a "Large" stamp is required.
- For those outside the UK, please send the postage equivalent of £2 sterling or International Reply Coupons to that value to cover the costs. IRCs are no longer available in the US, effective January 27, 2013.

Unless the SAE covers the complete cost of postage you will run the risk of not receiving a reply.

Does Richard have an official website?

There is no official website for Richard but he does have a Facebook page and a twitter account, RCArmitage

Richard does not generally respond to fans. Generally, he will not respond to autograph requests or any other types of requests via social media. Contact him via his agent's address above. Richard's agent's site is

How do I save a screencap from the gallery?

Click on an image to enlarge it and then click on this download button in the bottom-right corner:

Now right-mouse-click on the image (Ctrl-click on a Mac) and choose Save Image As. This will allow you to save the image to your hard drive. Some galleries have the words 'original image' next to this button, which will open an extra large version of the picture if we have it in our gallery.

How do I reload a page to see the latest updates?

When you view pages online that you've already visited, your browser will store the pages in its local cache so that the images or text are downloaded only once, thereby speeding up download time. If new updates have been made on any pages or in the picture gallery on this site and you cannot see the changes, you may need to refresh the page.

Press F5 to reload the page, or to wipe the cache entirely, press Ctrl F5 on a PC or Cmd F5 on a Mac.

Usage policy

Screencaps are provided for fair use. They can be used in artwork, videos and posted on forums and blogs. Credit is not compulsory but is appreciated. This does not apply to the personal photographs in the Candid Picture galleries. Please do not crop watermarks out of candid pictures. As a courtesy, usage beyond personal storage on your PC should be referred to the person whose name appears on the image watermark.

Please do not hotlink to any of the images on this site as it will increase demand on my server. Load images to photobucket, imageshack or another host if you wish to post the images anywhere online.

Wallpapers, signatures, icons, artwork and the calendar are for personal use. They are not to be posted elsewhere without the permission of the owner. The owners of all artwork are listed but if you do not know how to contact them directly and wish to do so, then email Ali at admin@richardarmitagenet.com and I will pass on any messages, or you can leave a message in the Comments box on the relevant page of this site to request use of any of the graphics.

Multimedia and problems playing videos on this site

All videos will play using VLC (<http://www.videolan.org/vlc/>) which is also free. Firefox and VLC work equally well on a Mac or PC.

If you cannot watch any streaming videos on this site, make sure you have downloaded the latest version of your internet browser (i.e. Internet Explorer, Firefox, Safari, etc) and also the latest version of Flash . You can email Ali at admin@richardarmitagenet.com if you have any problems with any multimedia on this site.

The website is best viewed on Mozilla Firefox which is free to download.

I have downloaded a 'zip file' from this site, how do I open the files?

A zip file is a compressed format containing one or more files. Some operating systems will allow you to double-click the zip file when it is downloaded and you can then access the files inside. If your Mac or PC doesn't allow this, you can download a free zip program like WinZip or StuffIt Expander

Privacy Policy

From June 2010, it was no longer necessary to register in order to access all material on the site. Information you enter when you leave a comment on a page or leave a guestbook entry is not shared with any outside party and remains strictly confidential. You may be contacted via email if you have asked for further information, or in the rare event that we may wish to email you personally in relation to a comment you have made.
